Letter from Rappahannock

Correspondence of the Alexandria GAZETTE. WOODVILLE, Rappahannock county, Va., Mar. 17, 1890 .- Our people are again much agitated on the question of whether we are to have a railroad through our county and wherever two or three happen to gather there is but one subject of conversation. A corps of engineers, under the lead of Mr. Have perfected arrangements for their extensive Fish business for the spring of 1890. They will receive Fish daily from the shores of the Potomac, and will supply consumers in quantities to suit, either fresh or saited, by experienced packers.

County orders solicited and satisfaction guaranteed.

WASHINGTON DANENHOWER,

WASHINGTON DANENHOWER, eight miles shorter than the route by Sper ryville. The cost of the two routes is also against the mountain line, as there is said by the engineers to be a difference of two millions of dollars in favor of the Culpeper millions of deliars in favor of the Cuipeper route. Of course great inducements alone can induce the building of the road through our county. A subscription of one hundred and fifty thousand deliars is spoken of by Rappabaunck as one of the inducements. Whilst we hope for the best still we fear there are too many points against us. It is interesting to know what an excitement this manner has caused smoog our mountain people.

Mount Vernon Avenue.

To connect by a handsome and substantial roadway the resting-place of Washington at Mount Verson with the Capital that bears his name is a proposition to which bear- his name is a proposition to which Congress, it is to be hoped, will give liberal | F American history. The drive from Washington via Arlington and Alexandria to Mt. Vernon is through a region of country sug-gestive of memorable and stirring events, pesides being neturally charming and pic-turesque, and would add more to the sub-urban attractions of the national Capital than any other similar improvement. The construction of the road would also have the effect of developing and beautifying a large portion of Alexandria and Fairfax counties and conducing materially to the prosperity of a section that is at present largely de-prived of market facilities and easy communication with Washington. The propriety of building this memorial highway rests, however, upon higher considerations than these—considerations that need no elaborate argument or discussion. The river route to Mount Vernon will, of course, always retain its popularity, but it is certainly not in accordance with the fitness of things that there should be no other way of traching the grounds consecra-ted by the dust of Washington. Mount Vernon avenue supplies the long existing want, and as it will have a national character there can be no objection to its being built by national authority. It will be in the nature of a connecting link between the monument and the tomb of the father of his country, and none the less to be desired because of the association of important practical ben-fits with its high patriotic significance. Such an avenue as proposed by Senator Barbour's bill would become in time the most beautiful bighway in America. It should be built upon massive foundations, and of the finest material, that it may equal the Appian way in duration, as it will far surpass the old Roman thoroughfare in the admiration of after ages - Wash Post.
